

How to find and use EBSCOhost databases

Step 1.

If you are off-campus, please start by logging in through the “Let Me In” portal (letmein.indianatech.edu). This will authenticate your login credentials and should allow you access to our entire database without any additional log-ins. Use your Indiana Tech username (email address) and password to login. Depending on your existing web browser settings, you may also find it helpful to be logged into your student portal at my.indianatech.edu.

Step 2.

Open new window/tab and go to McMillen Library homepage, by typing library.indianatech.edu in the browser’s address bar.

Step 3.

Under Quick Links section, choose Databases by Title (A-Z list).

Find EBSCOhost (All Ebsco collections) under letter “E”.

Step 4.

EBSCOhost is not a database - it is a provider of databases. When you go to EBSCO, you have the option of picking one or many databases from EBSCO's collection.

Scroll down the list of databases hosted under EBSCO's umbrella and choose the ones that are relevant to your search. You can read database descriptions to decide if you want to include them in your search.

Step 5.

Plug your keyword(s) in the search field provided. Click Search. You may limit your search results by using filters (limiters) in the left-hand pane under Refine Results. Use Full Text to limit your search to articles that McMillen Library owns in full text. Use the Scholarly/Peer Reviewed Journals to limit your results to scholarly articles only. Use the Publication Date slider to select a specific date range.

The screenshot displays the EBSCOhost search interface. At the top, the search bar contains the keyword "identity theft" with a red arrow pointing to it and the text "Your keyword(s) go(es) here". Below the search bar are options for "AND" and "Select a Field (optional)".

On the left side, the "Refine Results" section includes "Current Search" with "identity theft" and "Expanders" with "Apply equivalent subjects". Under "Limit To", there are three red-bordered boxes: "Full Text", "References Available", and "Scholarly (Peer Reviewed) Journals". Below these is a "Publication Date" range from 1999 to 2020.

The main search results area shows "Search Results: 1 - 10 of 7,467". The first result is titled "1. PHISHING AND PHARMING AS FORMS OF IDENTITY THEFT AND IDENTITY ABUSE." by VILIĆ, Vida M. in the "Balkan Social Science Review". Under this result, there is a "PDF Full Text (1.7MB)" link highlighted with a green box and a green arrow pointing to it from the text "Download the full text of your article here".

The second result is titled "2. The Sultan of Bling." by SEAL, MARK in "Vanity Fair". Under this result, there is an "HTML Full Text" link highlighted with a green box and a green arrow pointing to it from the same text "Download the full text of your article here".

Red arrows labeled "Filters (Limiters)" point from the "Limit To" section to the search results area.

Full text articles in EBSCO are available in one of two options: PDF or HTML. To download the full text of the article to your computer, use either the PDF Full Text or HTML Full Text link under the article.
