

How to find case studies in EBSCOhost databases (Business Topics)

Step 1.

If you are off-campus, please start by logging in through the “Let Me In” portal (letmein.indianatech.edu). This will authenticate your login credentials and should allow you access to our entire database without any additional log-ins. Use your Indiana Tech username (email address) and password to login. Depending on your existing web browser settings, you may also find it helpful to be logged into your student portal at my.indianatech.edu.

Step 2.

Open new window/tab and go to McMillen Library homepage, by typing library.indianatech.edu in the browser’s address bar.

Step 3.

Under Quick Links section, choose Databases by Title (A-Z).

Find EBSCOhost (All Ebsco collections) under letter “E”.

Step 4.

EBSCOhost is not a database - it is a provider of databases. When you go to EBSCO, you have the option of picking one or many databases from EBSCO's collection.

Scroll down the list of databases hosted under EBSCO's umbrella and choose the ones that are relevant to your search. You can read database descriptions to decide if you want to include them in your search.

For business related topics you may consider adding the following databases to your EBSCO search:

- Business Source Complete
- EBSCO Management Collection
- Entrepreneurial Studies Source
- Small Business Reference Center

Click Continue.

Step 5.

How to search for your topic? For example, if you are searching for case studies on sustainability do the following:

1. Plug your keyword(s) in the first search field provided: sustainability.
2. In the second search field type case studies.
3. Click Search.

You may limit your search results by using filters (limiters) in the left-hand pane under Refine Results. Use Full Text to limit your search to articles that McMillen Library owns in full text. Use the Scholarly/Peer Reviewed Journals to limit your results to scholarly articles only. Use the Publication Date slider to select a specific date range.

The screenshot displays the EBSCOhost search interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs: "New Search", "Subjects", "Publications", "Company Information", and "More". The search bar contains the query "sustainability AND case studies". Red arrows point to the search fields with labels "1st keyword" and "2nd keyword". A green "Search" button is visible on the right. Below the search bar, there are options for "Select a Field (optional)", "Create Alert", and "Clear".

The left-hand pane is titled "Refine Results" and contains a "Current Search" section with the Boolean/Phrase "sustainability AND case studies". Under "Expanders", there is an option for "Apply equivalent subjects". Under "Limiters", there is an option for "Full Text". A blue arrow labeled "Filters" points to the "Limit To" section, which is highlighted with a blue box. The "Limit To" section includes checkboxes for "Full Text" (checked), "References Available", and "Scholarly (Peer Reviewed) Journals". Below these are input fields for "1991" and "2020" under the "Publication Date" label, with a slider bar below them.

The main search results area shows "Search Results: 1 - 10 of 6,594". The first result is titled "1. The Role of the University for Promoting Sustainability through Third M University of Rome." and is by LITARDI, Irene; FIORANI, Gloria; LA BARA, Luana. The subjects listed are "Rome; Sustainability; Case studies; Social problems; Research methodology". A green box highlights the "PDF Full Text" link. The second result is titled "2. When the civic-participation play a crucial role on urban sustainability project 'A playground for Aurora'." and is by Fiorani, Gloria; Litardi, Irene. The subjects listed are "Crowd funding; Administration of Education Programs; All Other Miscellaneous Sch". A green box highlights the "PDF Full Text" link. The third result is titled "3.
